

night) for 48 hours.

7. Awaken twice during the night to check LOC.

8. Seek medical attention for any of the following:

- Injury sustained at high speed (e.g., automobile)
- Fall from a significant distance (e.g., height greater than that of the child)
- Injury sustained from great force (e.g., baseball bat)
- Injury sustained under suspicious circumstances
- Loss of consciousness
- Amnesia
- Discomfort (crying) more than 10 minutes after injury
- Headache that is severe, worsening, interferes with sleep, or lasts more than 24 hours
- Fluid leak from ears or nose; blackened eyes
- Vomiting three or more times, beginning after injury, or continuing 4 to 6 hours after injury
- Swelling in front of or above earlobe or swelling that increases in size
- Confusion or abnormal behaving